

ASIIP Residential Spring Conference 2018
Friday 23 March – Sun 25 March
(The Lane End Conference Centre, High Wycombe)

Adlerian Psychology:

Supporting Mental Health across the Life Span

Keynote Speakers:

Anabella Shaked

Bruce Tate

The Adlerian Society and Institute for Individual Psychology UK is excited to announce its upcoming annual Spring Conference for 2018. As always, we will extend a warm welcome to both members and non-members. The 2018 conference title will be announced shortly. Guest speakers: Annabella Shaked and Bruce Tate

The Conference theme will be about “Adlerian Psychology - supporting good mental health across the life span”. We invite attendees to submit proposals for presentations of papers, short workshops and creative endeavours around the conference theme. Please submit your proposals using the Call for Papers form on the Society's website.

You can attend for the whole three days of the conference programme, or on individual days during the weekend. Details can be found on the ASIIP website : <http://www.adleriansociety.co.uk/>

Conference will again be held at Lane End Conference Centre near High Wycombe (HP14 3HH)
